Art therapy can be part of rehabilitation for stroke patients and a useful stress relieving tool. Try this - color or paint this page with your non-dominant hand to experience how stroke patients must sometimes relearn how to use these muscles.